Cookie statement for yieldfund.com

At yieldfund.com, we use cookies to improve the user experience, make our website function properly, and to display personalized content and ads. In this cookie statement, we explain what cookies we use, why we use them, and how you can manage your cookie preferences.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are stored on your device when you visit a website. These files allow the website to recognize your device during your visit and future visits. Cookies may be necessary for the website to function or may serve to personalize or improve the website.

Types of cookies we use

1. Necessary cookies.

These cookies are essential for the proper functioning of the website. Without these cookies, certain parts of the website may not work properly. Necessary cookies do not collect information that can identify you.

How does consent work at Yieldfund?

First visit:

When you visit our website for the first time, a cookie popup will appear. Here, you can set your preferences:

- You can accept all cookies.
- You can selectively provide consent for specific categories of cookies (e.g., analytical or marketing cookies).

Adjusting Consent:

If you wish to modify your cookie preferences, this can be done easily:

- At the bottom left of our website, you will find a notification button that allows you to reopen the cookie settings.
- Through this button, you can adjust or withdraw your preferences at any time.

What are the implications of your choice?

Adjusting or refusing cookies does not affect the essential cookies required for our website to function properly. For other categories of cookies, you can easily specify what you accept or decline.

With this approach, we provide transparency and control over your cookie preferences.

For more information on how we process personal data, please refer to our Privacy Policy.
